Barbie and Jimmy Holton are native Texans dedicated to using their talents to create woodturnings and gourd art. With Barbie's study in various fine arts and crafts since childhood, she is constantly trying new directions. Jimmy's innate design ability completes the team.

They have been turning for about 13 years, since the Hill Country Turners took them under their collective wings to encourage their efforts.

The Holtons hail from the Houston area. Art, teaching, travel, children, business, sailboat racing, and woodturning have all been a part of their lives. Through the years, Barbie has taught art at almost every level from kindergarten to adult. Her

Shavings

The other afternoon, while checking my eyelids for light leaks, I was contemplating where we were going to get all of the turning blanks required for the Mike Mahoney classes. It came to mind that this time of year starts what you might call the "chain saw months". This is when we have the spring cleanups and storms that can produce a lot of FOG (found on ground) wood. As with most turners, I buy a few exotic pieces of turning stock from vendors but mostly obtain it locally. We are lucky to have a wide variety of wood species available but they require processing and this is where safety is paramount.

Regardless of whether the tree is standing or fallen, alive or dead, it takes a chain saw to cut it into usable lathe material. Unlike shop power tools, the chain saw has few built in safety devices. A high speed motor and a long, unprotected cutting chain running on the top and bottom of the bar is a license for disaster. The use of the saw's chain brake only provides a little protection when the saw is idling and maybe a little hand protection. What happens when the saw 'kicks back' or inertia causes it to hit your leg? I know a couple of people who know this (and there are probably others in our club) and I am one of them. I have a long scar on my leg from a chain cut and the saw was not even running. Another person, who shall remain nameless, also has a much larger chain scar on his leg. Before retiring, I worked with a man that had a partial hand with one finger thanks to a chain saw. I now wear Kevlar chaps, a hard hat with sound suppressing earmuffs, and a wire face shield. I consider this as my minimum chain saw protection outfit. What do they say about closing the gate after the horse gets out?

Woodturning can produce some nasty accidents but a chain saw goes well beyond. We do not need any club "safety coordinators" from chain saw accidents so be careful out there, use the saw properly, and wear the proper safety gear.

I know!

I saw it right away too....

current teaching has revolved around woodturning, gourd techniques, and pyrography.

Barbie will be demonstrating Basic Pyrography. She and Jimmy will be sharing equipment choices and favorite burner needs. Easy woodburning techniques and uses will be shown. Tips and simple tricks for embellishing bowls will be included. Direction will also be given to the more experienced woodburner.

Last Month's program

Information provided at last month's meeting during Stormy Boudreaux's presentation on Photographing your Work.

“Bring-Back” Drawing Winners

Don't forget that if you were a winner of any item in the previous month's drawing, you are obligated to bring a replacement item for the “Bring Back” drawing the following month. You can see the “Making Good Shavings” column in the March 2009 newsletter for updated guidelines on the “Bring Back” drawing. Winners of any turned item should bring back a replacement turned item of their own creation to the next meeting and winners of any other item such as tools or wood are encouraged to also bring a turned item that they have created in lieu of a non-turned item. If you have fallen behind in bringing a replacement item for the “Bring Back” drawing, now is the time to make up for any items that you owe.

Beads of Courage

Beads of Courage is a nationwide-wide program to provide motivation and encouragement to youngsters by recognizing significant milestones in children's progress through the treatments necessary in their fights against illnesses like cancer, heart disease, burns, etc. You can view the full Beads of Courage story at <http://www.beadsofcourage.org/>

Beads of Courage started at SWAT in 2010 as the inspiration of the good folks at Wood World, and owner Craig Fyock in particular. This is a project done almost entirely by the SWAT Vendors with attendees contributing boxes for a contest. After SWAT, the boxes are donated to Beads of Courage to be distributed to the kids. The Vendors solicit for the prize fund and do the judging of the entries. For details go to the SWAT website at <http://www.swaturners.org> under Symposium Information/Beads of Courage.

The response from the turners presenting boxes was outstanding in 2012 with 109 pieces being donated. Perhaps most significant is that we believe this was the single largest contribution of boxes in the history of the Beads of Courage program!

Nationally and Internationally known Demonstrators

This years lead demonstrators will be Jimmy Clewes, Ashley Harwood, Marilyn Campbell, Brian McEvoy, J. Paul Fennel and Dixie Biggs. Details of their rotations are available online.

Woodworking Show News

On February 8, 9, and 10 at least 39 members of the Woodturners of North Texas and several members of the Golden Triangle Woodturners and Dallas Area Woodturners manned a booth at The Woodworking Show at the Fort Worth Convention Center showing visitors what woodturning is all about. Throughout the three day show three mini-lathes were being constantly used to turn a wide variety of items to both entertain and educate the visitors that came to the show. We made new friends and several of the people that came by our booth became prospects for membership in our organization.

Dale Abshire entered his beautiful chess set in the Project Showcase Competition and won the First Place Award and will be honored in a future issue of Wood Magazine. Thanks to Chas Thornhill, Bob Clark, and John Horn, the huge event ran without a hitch. We even got to show off our new club banner that identified us as The Woodturners of North Texas.

Mike Mahoney

WNT Hands-on Demonstrator for April 2013

The Woodturners of North Texas will host Mike Mahoney for an all-day demonstration on Saturday, April 6th followed by five days of hands-on classes on a variety of subjects from April 7th through April 11th.

The All-Day Demonstration will be on Saturday, April 6th from 9 AM-4 PM, and will be held at the club meeting place at the Handley Meadowbrook Lions Club Building, 6013 Craig Street, Fort Worth, Texas 76112. It is open to anyone interested in seeing one of the most well-known woodturners in the world perform feats of woodturning that will amaze you, educate you, and entertain you like no one else we know. For an admission price of only $10 at the door, you can have the opportunity to observe a true master at work in an environment where you can get a great view of what an accomplished woodturner can do with a few tools in a relatively short period of time. This event needs to be on your bucket list of great turners that you want to see.

All of the classes will be in the shop of Dr. Jimmie Gill at 3425 Meadow Oaks Drive, Haltom City, TX 76117

For more information about Mike Mahoney, consider viewing the following web sites:

As of this writing, we are heavily involved in harvesting and preparing the wood for both Mike's demo and the hands-on classes. If you would like to get a little education on how to prepare blanks for bowls, platters, and hollow forms through the use of chain saws and bandsaws and provide a real service to the club, we could use your assistance while we help you learn.
